Appeal Two-Cent Fare Case.

Beekman Winthrop and other bondholders of the Pere Marquette Railroad Company have appealed to the Supreme Court from the decision of the federal circuit court of appeals holding constitutional the Michigan 2-cent fare law as applied to the road. They contend that the receivership of the road is due largely to the enforcement of the two-cent rate on Michigan interstate traffic.

TO GOVERN PAYMENTS

Representative Tinkham to Introduce Bill Regulating Assessments on Citizens for Improvements.

Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts will introduce in the House morrow his perfected measure providing for the payment of assessments for benefits in street openings, etc., travel. The bill, which has had the ald and backing of members of the Board of Trade, also has been examined by the Commissioners and Corporation Counsel Syme. One of the Commissioners termed the bill the best drawn measure of the kind he had ever seen.

Representative Tinkham has already introduced legislation on the subject which met widespread approval in the District. After many discussions on Miami, Fla. District. After many discussions on Miami, Fla he principle and some of the details, Mr. Tinkham has rewritten the measure. He has paid considerable attention to the simplicity of language in the bill

Principal Sections.

The principal sections of the measure provide: "That, hereafter, whenever, unde the provisions of law, streets, avenues, roads or alleys of whatsoever kind. are opened, extended, altered or straightened and the land for such opening, extension, alteration or straightening is acquired through conemnation proceedings, a copy of the verdict of the jury in such condemnation proceedings, awarding damages for the land taken in such proceedings. and assessing benefits accruing by reason of such opening, extension, aland assessing benefits accruing by reason of such opening, extension, alteration or straightening shall, when the same shall have been finally ratified and confirmed by the court, as provided by law, be forwarded to the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, for payment of the amounts of money awarded and adjudged to be payable for land taken, such payment to be made out of any funds available therefor, but the assessments for benefits shall become due and payable only as hereinafter provided.

"When the verdiot of the jury hereinbefore referred to is finally ratified and confirmed by the court the several assessments authorized to be made and levied by the jury shall severally be a lien upon the land assessed, and shall be collected as special improvement taxes in the District of Columbia, but said assessments shall not become due and payable until the street, avenue, road or alley as so opened, extended, altered or straightened, is actually opened for travel, by grading or otherwise, the date of such opening to be determined by the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, and a certificate to that effect forwarded by them to the assessor of the District of Columbia. Said assessments for benefits shall be paid as follows: One-third of the amount within sixty days after service of notice by said assessor, without interest one-third within one year, and the remainder within two years from the date of such service of notice, and interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, from and after said sixty days after the service of said notice shall be charged on all amounts which shall remain unpaid after said sixty days from the service of said notice."
